Telegraphing Without Wires.

Professor Loomis has been for some months experimenting in the West Virginia mountains on his aerial telegraph, and has succeeded, by running up wires to a certain altitude, in reaching the current of electricity which he claims can be found at that height, and by means of which communication can be had at any distance.

It is said the professor has telegraphed to parties eleven miles distant by merely sending up a kite at each end of the distance to a certain height, attached to which, in place of an ordinary string, was a fine copper wire. When both kites touched the same current, communication was had between them, and messages were sent from one end to the other by means of the ordinary Morse instrument in connection with the instrument invented by Professor Loomis. He now has a project for a series of experiments from a point on one of the highest peaks on the Alps, in Switzerland, to a similarly situated place in the Rocky mountains on this side of the world. If this succeeds, of course his invention will rank in importance with that of the electric telegraph itself, and vastly reduce the cost of telegraphing.—Commercial Bulletin.

Make Home Cheerful.

In a recent lecture, Rev. Dr. Vincent was unparagon in condemnation of the practice of debauching children from the use of the house—all parts of it, as their home, and saving the carpets and furniture at the cost of their comfort and the risk of their ruin. If quiet was the great thing wanted, he recommended the parents to go to the cemetery; they were sure to find it there. For his part he wanted his boy to feel that the most joyous place on earth was his father's house.

The Ohio boy is full of genius. He had been reading that Nero fiddled while Rome burned and his fancy was kindled by the mere thought of the sublime spectacle. How hard it is to repress the precocity that bespeaks the possession of heaven-born endowments. One afternoon this boy set fire to the woodshed, and crawling upon an adjoining fence, covered his mother's comb with a bit of paper, and played "Way down upon the Swanee River," while the conflagration proceeded. He took his meals standing for several days afterward.

Slaven's Effervescent California Fruit Salt

Is prepared from sound, ripe fruit, by an experienced and vial chemist, who has over 15 years in experimenting on its preparation. It is a manna (dred) by a special process known only to the proprietor. This preparation is a safe, simple and effective medicine, for regulating the action of the stomach, liver and kidneys. It is most particularly recommended for Dyspepsia, indigestion, Headache, Nervousness, Acidity of the stomach, Bilious Constipation, Nausea, Sick Headache, Kidney and Liver troubles, Over-indulgence either in eating or drinking, etc. As a purifier of the blood in all Scrofulous Diseases, it has no equal. It removes all eruptions from the skin and has a cooling and invigorating effect on the system. The FRUIT SALT is entirely different from any of the effervescent salts or Sedative preparations in the market, being manufactured from Fruit. For sale by all druggists.

Oh, What a Cough!

Will you heed the warning. The signal perhaps of the sure approach of that most terrible disease Consumption. Ask your self if you can afford the sake of saving a few cents, to run the risk and do nothing for it. We know from experience that such a course will cure your cough. As a purifier of the blood, it will cure your cough. As a purifier of the blood, it will cure your cough. As a purifier of the blood, it will cure your cough.

INGERSOLLISM.

The Argonaut, after a very just and able statement of the conflict between Ingersoll and the Church, concludes in this way: "We are not expressing opinions, we are but stating facts. We are not upholding Robert Ingersoll in his assault upon religion; we are not writing irreverently of a faith that holds in its embrace millions of intelligent minds, but we are warning the Christian church and its members, its learned clergy and intelligent laymen, that men who are their equals in learning, and their equals in the possession of all the morals, and all the virtues, and all the essentials of good citizenship, and who are as conscientious, and as honest, and as earnest as themselves, are prospecting the Christian church to its lowest levels. They are assaying the ores of dogma, subjecting all the articles of faith to a thorough analysis, to fire-assays and practical working processes for results. If the Christian church can stand this investigation, and the Christian religion can come successfully out of this furnace of intellectual heat, it will have fought its last battle and won its crowning victory. If it cannot do this its days are numbered. This conflict is to be fought out in the open arena. It is to be an intellectual conflict on a fair field. The weapons of science, history, philosophy, reason, are open to the choice of both combatants. No fairer field than in the United States of America, no age with a better temper than this nineteenth century, and no better men and women than ours as umpires in the contest."

CONKLING'S RESIGNATION.

The GAZETTE publishes a telegram that Conkling and Platt have resigned as Senators from New York. This action indicates that Garfield has concluded to be President, promises that there may be a serious conflict between factions of the great Republican party in New York, or indicates that Conkling and Platt are sure of a reelection to the Senate. Either the Conkling men mean treachery to the party which has honored them, or the resignations are meant to furnish an advantage to that faction through a reelection. The situation in any event is serious and the sequel will not long be delayed. Platt seems to be a mere shadow of Conkling.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Jefferson Davis, in his speech at the unveiling of the Stonewall Jackson statue at New Orleans, May 13, said: "From the academic shades of the military institute, Jackson went forth to battle for the cause of State rights, self government and constitutional liberty. He lived for his country, never doubting the justice of his cause, believing it was righteous and trusting in it. He died, as I live today, feeling that the Confederacy ought to have succeeded because it was founded on truth and justice. He gave his life for the whole country, and the country gave its heart to Jackson. You men upon whom he leaned in the hour of danger, in honoring him, also honor yourselves."

The Tribune relates the melancholy story of a man who once had led a disreputable life, had been Lieutenant-Governor of his State, a member of Congress, but having abandoned politics and returned to an honest living, being at work on the streets of Charleston, dug up with his pick a copy of the Congressional Record containing one of his own speeches. From which it is argued that however one may reform, his sin will always find him out.

It is said the Marquis de Lorne has communicated to the members of the Canadian Government his intention to retire from the Governor-Generalship after his Manitoba journey. This decision has been reached after a careful and prolonged consultation with his father, the Duke of Argyll, and friends on both sides of the water.

ARRIVALS AT THE ARCADE HOTEL

D. McFarland Proprietor.

JOTTINGS.

—Pat Keliher, formerly of Reno, is in business in Bodie.

—Gethell advertised a house and lot in the GAZETTE and of course he sold it.

—J. C. Wallace wants the GAZETTE to say that he was divorced from his wife in September, 1879.

—Read the Card to the Public which Nick Hammersmith publishes in today's GAZETTE.

—Chapman's six-horse team, loaded with square timbers, took a spurt down Second street to-day. No damage.

—The Sentinel says Mrs. W. Sprague returned last evening from Reno, where she went for the benefit of her health, which is much improved.

—The Northern Belle Mining Company paid to-day a dividend of fifty cents per share, and an extra dividend of twenty-five cents per share.

—A Reno man told his wife recently that he "had hic—been a eatin'—hic—rasberries and—hic—got—hic—the chol—hic—era morbus."

—Assessments delinquent in May on Nevada mines amount to $517,800; almost twice as much as on California mines, and over twenty times the delinquency on mines in Arizona.

—F. N. Marker and family, of Washoe, were recipients of a surprise party on Friday. Marker acquitted himself after his usual hospitable manner.

—The Times says: Harry Rice has bought a furnished house and a large lot on the east side of town for $700. He is to be married on June 15th to one of Carson's fairest daughters.

The best cigar in the world can be had at John F. Fry's Drug Store on Virginia street.

SIERRA VALLEY BARN.

The Process of Evolution Among the Farmers.

So little grain is raised in Sierra valley that granaries and corn cribs attain very small proportions, but as hay is the principal product, the question of handling and storing it with economy is very important. To meet this demand, a barn of peculiar construction has been developed. It is usually very large and roomy and the wagon loaded with hay is carried to the top on a runway that starts up on a steep grade outside of the building, and enters just beneath the comb of the roof low enough to admit the load. The sides of the wagon drop on the opening of a latch and the hay almost unloads itself. The barn is sometimes filled entirely with hay, but usually the first floor is divided into stalls for cattle and horses, and a store-room for wagons and machinery. Over these is a long and very wide space on each side of the runway, capable of holding immense quantities of hay. A GAZETTE reporter recently took measurements of J. L. Crows' barn in Clover Valley. The runway is 600 feet in length and rises to a height of 27 feet and is eight feet wide. The wagon is drawn up by a whim worked by a horse. Heavy timbers are spiked on the outer edges of the runway and guide the wagon. Anderson of Fish Springs, Flint of Sierra Valley and many others use barns of this pattern and all are well satisfied. The pattern originated in Sierra Valley.

The Social Event.

There will be skating at the rink on Tuesday evening, and the box window will be open all day Wednesday for sale of carnival tickets and reservation of skates for that notable event. Those who do not reserve skates will have to take the best they can get as the demand is already quite brisk. The carnival will open at 8 P. M. and skating begins at 8:30. Skating for prizes will take place from 9:30 till 10. After that general skating will ensue until 11 P. M., when dancing will commence. At 12 M. there will be a general unmasking. Carr's band will furnish a promenade concert, the programme of which will be published in the GAZETTE. A large number of persons along the V. & T. have signified their intention of being present and the GAZETTE learns that Gov. Kinkead and other prominent State officials are coming. The carnival will be a success.

The Injunction Suit.

On Saturday last the matter of enjoining the Board of Commissioners from further proceedings under the Asylum Bill was argued before Judge King in Carson. Gen. R. M. Clarke and C. S. Varian Esq., represented the plaintiff Klein, and W. E. F. Deal defended the bill for the Board. The arguments were not concluded when the GAZETTE's informant left, but Judge King had intimated that he would take the matter under advisement until Wednesday or Thursday next. The GAZETTE is informed that another and purely technical point was raised during the argument upon the title of the bill. It was claimed that the title did not indicate any purpose or provision for borrowing money.

Improvements.

The Palace Hotel, corner Commercial Row and Center street, is soon to be materially improved. The building is to have a public entrance on Center street and there will be a first-class restaurant under the supervision of Sam Welch. The stairway will be placed between the bar and the restaurant. The house will be 35x100 and will be rearranged upstairs and down. Perkins & White will have a fine house and when Al. says that he means business that is a guarantee that something is to be done.

Slight Frost.

There was a slight frost near Glen yesterday which injured the vegetable crop slightly. It did not injure the cherry trees because it was not large enough to use a hatchet. It was not a relative of Jack Frost, nor yet a severe frost, but a daughter of H. M. Frost. H. M. certainly has the frostiest ranch in the world.

Accident.

A. A. Smith was thrown from a horse near Hymers & Comstock's stable yesterday and sustained a fracture of his right shoulder. It was at first believed that Smith was more seriously hurt, as he lay for some time insensible. He will be all right again soon.

PIONEERS' PICNIC.

How the Old Boys Will Entertain Their Friends on June 5th.

The Ninth Annual Picnic and Excursion of the Pacific Coast Pioneers will take place Sunday, June 5th, 1881, at Treadway's Park, Carson City. A splendid programme has been prepared and the "old boys" will, as usual, entertain their guests royally. Besides the attraction of target shooting, base ball, archery, darning, etc., etc., the pioneers have arranged the following which is a new departure in picnic programmes:

Trotting race—to harness. Free to all Nevada horses without a record inside of three minutes. Society purse of $100—gold coin; ten per cent. entrance; five to enter and two to start; horse to win two heats to win the money.

Running race—single dash of a mile. Free to all horses bred in Nevada for the last three months. Society purse of $25—gold coin; ten per cent. entrance.

One ticket takes in all the attractions, and there will no doubt be a throng of merry makers at the Park on June 5th.

Truckee Tidings.

A man by the name of J. G. Webster had his leg broken at Richardson Bros. mill Friday morning.

Supt. C. F. Byrne, of the Truckee Mining Co., whose mine is situated in Mohawk in Sierra county, sent in a very fine specimen of gold, which was taken from the company's claim a few days ago.

The Republican says: On Monday last the condition of Joe Dysart, the man who was shot by officer Reed a little more than a week ago, was considered quite critical and Justice Weller took what was supposed to be his dying statement. At the present time though, his condition is so much improved that he will undoubtedly recover.

On last Wednesday morning, two young boys who gave their names as John Morrison and John Wilson stole a pair of boots valued at $10 from the Pacific House. They were sentenced to pay a fine of $30 or serve 30 days in the county jail.

Church Music.

The singing at Trinity Church is said to be admirable. Miss Quail has added five boys to her former chorus of eight girls. The effect is very fine and the harmony all that could be desired. Strangers who attend the church say that they seldom hear such full, hearty, inspiring singing. The congregation is to be congratulated on having so admirable a leader and drill master as Miss Quail, and such excellent voices as she has in her choir.

The Fair Meeting.

A citizens' meeting has been called for Thursday night next, at the Reform Club Hall. The Trustees of the N. S. A. M. & M. S. will at that time submit the necessities and prospects of the society to the citizens. That a fair should be held and made successful is an important matter in this community, and the GAZETTE earnestly hopes there may be a large attendance and a free interchange of opinion. Turn out and talk business.

Once More Ahead.

D. Peyser is constantly receiving additions to the stock of the Mechanics' Store. He has an elegant stock of ladies' underwear, dollmans, shawls, cloaks, Japanese fans, sheeting, linen dusters, bed furniture, etc., etc. Everything from a paper collar to a bridal costume may be had at the Mechanics' Store, and Joe Wiele declares that he will undersell any store in Reno, if he breaks Peyser up. Go and see him early.

Thanks.

Mrs. S. H. Brittan desires to return thanks to many kind friends in Reno who aided and comforted her during the last illness of her husband. The GAZETTE can say that the bereaved lady has the sincere sympathy of the entire community in her time of grief and mourning.

On Her Travels.

Mrs. Albert White arrived in St. Louis on Sunday night and probably continued her journey to-day. She goes to Louisville, Kentucky, to visit her husband's family and will also visit other points of interest before returning.

Tube Shoes and Gladioli Hats. Choice and fresh, just received from the East, and for sale by MRS. L. O'BURN & SHOEMAKER.

Card to the Public.

In yesterday's issue of the Nevada State Journal the following appeared:

CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC!

The patrons of D. Pechner and the public generally are notified that D. Pechner's bathhouse is the only one connected with a barber shop in town and that the public will not allow itself to be misled by any other bathhouse sign.

In reply to this I will state, notwithstanding what D. Pechner says, that I have a sign meaning baths, in front of my shop and which shop is to all purposes and in the true sense of the word called a barber shop and that any person, lady or gentleman, can at all times day or night get a hot or cold, steam or electric bath. It is true I have not got the baths in my shop, but there is always a person in attendance who will propel a person in the right direction where they can get clean bath tubs, more clean towels and better attention than at any other bathhouse in the State. Mr. Pechner may think I have no interest in this bathhouse, but if he will step around and make the proper inquiries he can find out that I am interested in said bathhouse, notwithstanding that I have not got the bath rooms in my shop. Myself, as well as the public, have long since felt the necessity of a clean Bath House, where you can find warm water, and clean rooms, and now in this new Bath House you will find all that is required, notwithstanding Mr. Pechner's caution to the public.

NICK HAMMERSMITH, Pioneer Barber of Reno.

Lassen Locals.

McDow's quartz mill will start up this week.

Good crop prospects in Fall River valley.

J. Lovell has the mail contract from Greenville to Prattville.

The Mountain Meadow mines are yielding good returns.

The Oroville road is open again.

Susanville will celebrate the 4th of July.

Susanville parties caught 300 pounds of trout in Pine Creek in one day.

A. Cummins has recently completed a landscape in oil which is said to be very creditable to his skill as an artist. The painting is copied from a very small pencil sketch, and represents the old home of Mrs. A. C. Neale, now resident in Reno. The Advocate commends Mr. Cummins' artistic taste and skillful manipulation.

Could not Serve.

"Do you know anything about this case?"

"No."

"Have you formed or expressed an unqualified opinion?"

"No."

"Do you know either of the parties?"

"No."

"Have you any bias or prejudice against either?"

"No."

"Can you go into the jury box and try this case according to law and evidence?"

"No."

"Why not sir?" asked the Court.

"Well your honor I can't possibly serve because there's an attorney employed in this business that I wouldn't believe under oath."

"You can go sir."

Sudden Death.

S. H. Brittan, who lately came to Reno from Colusa county, and started a private school, returned from a brief visit to Marysville on Tuesday last bringing with him his family. He felt unwell shortly after his arrival and took to his bed. Yesterday morning at 4:30 A. M. he died of typhoid pneumonia. His body was taken to Marysville for interment. Mr. Brittan came to Reno with the highest endorsement from his former field of labor, and was a member of the bar of Missouri. The GAZETTE is informed that his wife is a sister of J. C. Harl, of Washoe county.

Why They Come.

People from Eastern Nevada and the northern counties of California are learning that Reno has some claim to the distinction of being a health resort. The ladies are also attracted by Barnett's large and elegant assortment of dry goods.

Eat Something.

Peter Dalton is satisfying his many patrons at the Metropolitan restaurant in the Merchants' Exchange building, Corner Virginia street and Commercial Row. He keeps open day and night, and all the delicacies are served in style.

BY TELEGRAPH.

CONKLING AND PLATT RESIGNS.

Is Conkling Defeated, or Will He Come Again?

New York, May 16. Vice President Arthur to-day laid before the Senate the following communication:

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 16. SIR:—Will you please announce to the Senate that my resignation as Senator of the United States from the State of New York has been forwarded to the Governor of the State.

I have the honor to be with great respect, your obedient servant, [Signed] ROSCOE CONKLING.

This communication caused a great sensation which was heightened when Vice President Arthur laid the following before the Senate:

SENATE CHAMBER, May 16. SIR:—I have forwarded to the Governor of the State of New York my resignation as Senator of the United States for the State of New York. Will you please announce the fact to the Senate?

With great respect, your obedient servant, [Signed] T. C. PLATT.

Hill in His Element.

The greatest astonishment and excitement followed the reading of the communications and Hill of Georgia suggested ad hoc that "this would be a good time to elect officers of the Senate."

Personal.

D. B. Nye is in town.

J. H. McMechan has returned to Reno.

Col. R. H. Taylor of the Comstock was in Reno to-day.

C. Derby is at his ranch on Bartlett creek in Humboldt county.

Col. L. Richardson has returned to Reno to stay, after a protracted visit to lower California.

Accident.

Gordon Rice, a compositor in this office, while skating at the Pavilion yesterday fell and paralyzed or pined his left arm from the elbow to the shoulder. The proof of the accident is found in the fact that he wears his arm in a chase and his face is grave enough for an imposing stone. It is hoped that Rice's case will not last long and that no one will follow copy.

"I Don't Want That Stuff"

Is what a woman of Boston said to her husband when he brought home some medicine to cure her sick headache and neuralgia which had made her miserable for fourteen years. At first attack thereafter it was administered to her with such good results that she continued its use until cured, and was so enthusiastic in its praise that she induced twenty-two of the best families in her circle to adopt it as their regular family medicine. That "stuff" is Hop Bitters.

Women Never Think.

If the crabbled old bachelor who uttered this sentiment could but witness the intense thought, deep study and thorough investigation of women in determining the best medicine to keep their families well, and would note their sagacity and wisdom in selecting Hop Bitters as the best, and demonstrating it by keeping their families in perpetual health, at a mere nominal expense, he would be forced to acknowledge that such sentiments are baseless and false.

Hub Punch is composed of the finest liquors and most exquisite fruit juices. In Winter or Summer, with hot water or milk as today, or with ice, soda, etc., this is par excellence, the favorite; keep it on hand. Sold by all grocers, wine merchants and druggists. Trade supplied by Richards & Harrison, Agents for Pacific coast, San Francisco.

EXTRACT.—For persons suffering from exhaustion of the powers of the brain and nervous system, from long and continued study or teaching, or in those cases of exhaustion from which so many young men suffer, know no better medicine for restoration to health than Feltz's Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites.

BUILDING REVIEW.

A Desperate Escape.
Detroit Free Press.
In 1864 a Michigan cavalryman named Drake, was out foraging in the Shenandoah valley, in company with a comrade named Cooper. Cooper was in a smoke house after meat, and Drake was on guard at the door, when 12 Confederates suddenly appeared. They were mounted and advanced at a gallop, part of them firing as they came. One bullet found a suitable opening in the stone wall and killed Cooper dead in his tracks. Drake was standing beside his horse, and his saddle was hit by three bullets, one of which glanced through his hat.
As soon as the trooper could realize what had happened he swung himself into his saddle and dashed at the circle that surrounded him. He was a target for pistol and carbine. His horse made a rush at the line but was driven back. Followed by Cooper's horse he galloped around and across, all the time under a steady fire by the Confederates. This fire was soon returned by Drake, who fired away seven cartridges and then drew his saber. His seven shots killed two men, wounded two more, and killed one horse. His fire broke the circle and he got out of it, but for thirty rods as he rode off, he was exposed to the fire of nine or ten men. Cooper's horse was killed in the circle, while Drake's horse was hit no less than nine times, and yet was disabled. As for his rider, his comrades, on his return to camp, counted on a record of truly miraculous escapes. Three bullets struck his scabbard, two his hat, four went through his clothes, one burned his cheek, one raked his knee, and two struck his left boot. While one single bullet killed the one trooper, the other had sixteen fired point blank at him and yet did not lose a drop of blood. Cooper's horse was killed by one bullet, while nine failed to disable the larger and more exposed animal.

A Very Law Abiding Spouse.
London Telegraph.
Almost as quaint as the well-known story of the Spanish monarch who was roasted to death because the official justified by the prescriptions of Court etiquette in removing him from inconvenient proximity to a roasting fire did not happen to be within the palace precincts at the time of His Majesty's extreme need, in an account of a recent suicide in St. Petersburg. A certain Prince, a handsome spendthrift, had married a wealthy bourgeois for her money, and this union had turned out so unhappily that a few days ago he hanged himself to a window frame in his study. One of the servants happened to enter the room almost immediately after he had completed this arrangement, beheld him suspended, and summoned her mistress, who was dressing for a ball, to the spot. When the Princess caught sight of her husband, he was struggling with considerable energy; but not venturing to make or authorize any attempt to cut him down or otherwise relieve him from his precarious situation, she simply ordered her servants to acquit the police with the exact state of affairs. The footman told the porter; the porter communicated with the grandvoir on duty in the street. By the time the official had made the matter plain to the priest, or police lieutenant, and that functionary had sent for the police surgeon to accompany him to the scene of the catastrophe, some three hours had elapsed; and when the executive removed the Prince from the window frame that unfortunate nobleman was as indistinguishable no more as good Queen Ann herself.

House Moving.
[Galveston News]
There is no more common sight on the streets of Galveston than a moving house. Even two-story frame buildings, by the liberal use of able-bodied mules and rollers, are moved from their sites to vacant lots many blocks distant. This explains what Bill Pitz meant when, after the oyster supper was over, a few nights ago, and he started for home, Gilbohy found him holding on to a lamp-post and ejaculating: "Whip up your mules." "What do you mean, Bill?" "What do you shoopee I mean? Are you so intoxicated you can't see? I can't cross street till house gets past, can't I? Whip up your mules." The house that Pitz thought was moving, was of brick, four stories high, and kept in place by a heavy mortgage.
